WISCONSIN WORKS

The Wisconsin Works (W-2) program under current law provides work experience and benefits for low-income custodial parents who are at least 18 years old, as well as job search assistance to noncustodial parents who are required to pay child support, to minor custodial parents, and to pregnant women who are not custodial parents. A person who meets the eligibility requirements for the Wisconsin Works (W-2) program and who is the custodial parent of a child who is 12 weeks old or less may receive a monthly grant of $673 and may not be required to work in a W-2 employment position. Current law also provides generally that receiving a monthly grant as the custodial parent of an infant counts toward the time limits that apply to how long an individual may receive certain benefits only if the child was born more than ten months after the date on which the individual was first determined to be eligible for W-2.

This bill provides that if a person who is a custodial parent was participating in W-2 for at least three months before receiving a custodial parent grant, the person may receive the grant until the child is 26 weeks old instead of 12 weeks old and may not be required to work in a W-2 employment position during that time.

Additionally, the bill provides that an unmarried woman who would be eligible for W-2 except that she is not a custodial parent may also receive a monthly grant of $673 and may not be required to work in a W-2 employment position if she is in the third trimester of a medically verified pregnancy that is at risk and that renders the woman unable to participate in the workforce. The bill also provides that receiving a monthly grant as the custodial parent of an infant counts toward the time limits that apply to how long an individual may receive certain benefits regardless of when the child was born in relation to when the individual was first determined to be eligible for W-2, unless the child was conceived as a result of sexual assault or incest. Receipt of a monthly grant as a pregnant woman, however, does not count toward the time limits.

For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Sarah:

This draft reconciles LRB-1059/1 and LRB-1396/4. Both of these drafts should continue to appear in the compiled bill.

In this draft I also modified the initial applicability provisions somewhat. I hope it is correct that the creation of s. 49.148 (1m) (a) 1. b. (which is the 26-week newborn grant period for those who have participated for three months in regular W-2) should first apply to those who are determined to be eligible for W-2 on January 1, 2010. Let me know if you want the new provision to apply to someone who is already participating in W-2 on January 1, 2010. Then I will change the initial applicability to first apply to someone who is participating on the effective date.

Hi Pam,

We want the new caretaker of a newborn infant provision to apply to someone who is already participating in W-2 on January 10, 2010, so could you also change the initial applicability provision on this draft as well?

Thanks.

FOR 2009-11 BUDGET -- NOT READY FOR INTRODUCTION

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

WISCONSIN WORKS

The Wisconsin Works (W-2) program under current law provides work experience and benefits for low-income custodial parents who are at least 18 years old, as well as job search assistance to noncustodial parents who are required to pay child support, to minor custodial parents, and to pregnant women who are not custodial parents. A person who meets the eligibility requirements for the Wisconsin Works (W-2) program and who is the custodial parent of a child who is 12 weeks old or less may receive a monthly grant of $673 and may not be required to work in a W-2 employment position. Current law also provides generally that receiving a monthly grant as the custodial parent of an infant counts toward the time limits that apply to how long an individual may receive certain benefits only if the child was born more than ten months after the date on which the individual was first determined to be eligible for W-2.

This bill provides that if a person who is a custodial parent was participating in a W-2 employment position for at least three months before receiving a custodial parent grant, the person may receive the grant until the child is 26 weeks old instead of 12 weeks old and may not be required to work in a W-2 employment position during that time. Additionally, the bill provides that an unmarried woman who would be eligible for W-2 except that she is not a custodial parent may also receive a monthly grant of $673 and may not be required to work in a W-2 employment position if she is in the third trimester of a medically verified pregnancy that is at risk and that renders the woman unable to participate in the workforce. The bill also provides that receiving a monthly grant as the custodial parent of an infant counts toward the time limits that apply to how long an individual may receive certain benefits regardless of when the child was born in relation to when the individual was first determined to be eligible for W-2, unless the child was conceived as a result of sexual assault or incest. Receipt of a monthly grant as a pregnant woman, however, does not count toward the time limits.

For further information see the state fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:
